

FARTHER THAN EVER FROM AN AGREEMENT

Highways and Sewers Committee
Doesn't Seem to Know
What It Wants.

RAILWAY MATTER IS TABLED

Everybody Was Uncertain and Matter
Now Stands Where it Did Before Meeting Last Friday Night—Via and Robinson Draw Lots For Chair.

Last Friday night the highways and sewers committee of the city council practically agreed to recommend that the Hampton Roads Traction Company be permitted to surrender its franchise discontinue service and remove its tracks and other properties from the streets of the city, on the condition that the streets now occupied by the company's tracks be restored to their former condition, the pavement on West avenue be repaired and half of Twenty-sixth street, between West and Virginia avenues, be paved. City Attorney Massie was instructed to draw up an ordinance covering the terms agreed upon and the committee met last night to consider this ordinance. Now the committee and the railway company are as far from an agreement as they were before Friday night's meeting.

New Conditions.
When the ordinance was presented last night it contained numerous conditions that were not mentioned Friday night. In addition to what it was agreed that the railway company should do, the company was required to shell for a depth of eight inches Warwick avenue from Twenty-sixth street to Hampton avenue and Twenty-third street from Warwick avenue to Jefferson avenue.

Mr. Read Objects.
Alderman J. Winston Read strenuously protested against the recommendation of this ordinance and suggested that the company be required to give the city a certain amount of cash instead of agreeing to do paving. Mr. Read and Councilman Christie both made attacks upon Mr. W. J. Payne, contending that he had not complied with promises made to the council.

Everybody Uncertain.
Mr. Braxton was not in a position to say whether or not Mr. Payne would agree to the new conditions imposed and Messrs. Burcher, Washburn and Weston were not ready to say whether or not they would vote for the measure even if Mr. Payne accented it, and would not commit themselves in regard to eliminating other requirements in event the company would pay to the city $25,000 in cash.

After much wrangling the matter

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE

Untold Suffering and Constant
Misery—Awful Sight From that Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Commenced at Top of his Head and Covered Entire Body.

MOTHER PRAISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. The family doctor seemed to be wholly incapable of coping with the case, and after various experiments of his, which resulted in no benefit to the child, we sent to Marion, Ill., to a druggist and got a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and applied as per directions, and he began to improve immediately, and in about three or four days began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered, with the exception of a rough skin, which is gradually disappearing, and eventually will be replaced by a healthy one."

"Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Mabelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1906."

Draw Lots for Chair.

Before considering the railway ordinance, the committee effected an organization. Several ballots were taken without breaking the deadlock between Councilman Via and Alderman Robinson, upon whose names 198 ballots were taken last week. Then it was agreed to accept Mr. Via's suggestion that lots be drawn. Two slips of paper were put into a hat—Mr. Via drew "chairman" and Mr. Robinson "vice-chairman" and the contest came to an end.

All the committeemen, Aldermen Robinson, Burcher and Weston, and Councilmen Via, Washburn and Chandler, were present.

About fifty citizens gathered to hear the discussion.

"EVERYMAN" PLEASURES

Old Play Draws Big Audience to Academy.

PRESENTED IN SPLENDID STYLE

Ben Greet's London Players Give
Striking Interpretation of Weird
Characters Originally Portrayed by Monks.

Ben Greet and his company of London players gave a splendid presentation of that reputed masterpiece of the fifteenth century morality plays, "Everyman," at the Academy of Music last night before one of the largest audiences that has gathered in the play house this season.

One can form no conception of the play from the story. To be thoroughly understood and appreciated, it must be seen, and having seen it one hardly knows how to express the impression left, so conflicting are the emotions produced.

In the very beginning of the performance a feeling of awe creeps over the spectator when the voice of God is heard in the distance, summoning his messenger Death and bidding him summon Everyman to a final and speedy reckoning. After three weird drum taps, Death appears in the form of a gruesome moving skeleton, a spectre horrible to behold.

As Death delivers his message to Everyman, the spectators' feelings are changed to that of pity for the light hearted young man, who is speedily summoned to a final reckoning when he is least prepared to answer. His passionate appeals to Death for respite melt the heart in pity.

When Everyman, after his worldly friends, Fellowship, Kindred and Goodies, refuse to accompany him on his pilgrimage, turns to his "Good Deeds" for succor and comfort, one is lifted up, as it were into a higher, purer atmosphere. In the final scene, after "Everyman" has made himself fit for the pilgrimage, arrives at his grave and slowly descends to resolve into clay, we again creep over the audience and with the appearance of two Heavenly angels it is as if one were lifted into another world and the gruesome weird sensations produced before are swept away by the joyful sound of angels' voices, welcoming Everyman into the Heavenly Kingdom.

There is but one stage setting for "Everyman" and the action is continuous from the appearance of the "Doctor" who announces the intent of the play, until his appearance at the finish. The company is composed of real actors and the scenery and costumes are in keeping with the remainder of the production.
